Charlie Banana News!

by Charlie Banana on Wednesday, August 17, 2011 at 1:13pm ·

Dearest Charlie Banana® Fans,

Hopefully you're enjoying August and the back-to-school season. If you're like us, I'm savoring the last few days of summer and the many memories made over the past few months. If it's the first day of school for your little ones, be strong! It's harder for the parents than the child – these little ones are growing up so fast!

We want to address our One Size Diaper supply and demand, the website minimum requirements and share some exciting news!

As you may know, in the United States, we are currently very low on stock of our One Size Diapers and currently, many of our retailers have a limited supply. Charlie Banana® customers are faithful and the demand is strong (a great thing!). We know it is frustrating for those trying to order additional One Size Diapers. We want happy customers and Charlie Banana® covered bottoms!

So mark your calendar! Charlie Banana® One Size stock level will be back to normal mid-September.

Be sure to pre-order with your local retailers, which you can find here http://www.charliebanana.com/Find-a-Store_ep_51-1.html. If you need an alternative option until then, we suggest our Medium Sized Diaper as it lasts from 4-24 months. Diapers are amazing!

Other great news -- we are removing our $50 minimum order on www.charliebanana.com. We've heard your feedback and don't want to limit anyone's ability to purchase directly from us. In addition, we are working to reduce shipping costs from orders placed on www.charliebanana.com. We hope to have more information to you by early October.

Do not hesitate to contact your local retailers as they can pre order anything for you on their next order. We love to encourage you to shop your local and online baby store.

As always, please contact us with questions, comments or concerns at info@charliebanana.com. For the latest updates and news on your coveted cloth, LIKE us on Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/lovecharliebanana> or follow us on Twitter (@charliebanana)!

To thank you for your support, passion and most importantly, your patience, we are offering FREE SHIPPING on our Website for orders over $100 with the coupon code GOBANANAS – August 18 through August 31.

Thank you for everything!

Sincerely,

Gaëlle Wizenberg and the Charlie Banana team
